

Patients who are attending a NHS England commissioned Gender Clinic are entitled to facial and surgical site hair removal in line with the National Interim Gender Protocol.

The process for obtaining NHS funding of facial hair removal (and surgical site areas) is detailed below. The patient must be on the gender pathway and attending one of the clinics detailed above as the process requires support from the Gender Clinic clinicians before funding is approved.

Patients should discuss this treatment with their clinician before approaching one of the identified providers. NHS England has the right to refuse funding a provider if there are concerns regarding the quality of treatment provided or the cost is outside of the normal range per treatment.

Facial hair removal is funded for a maximum of 8 sessions plus a patch test. Facial hair removal can be either by electrolysis or laser treatment but the choice of option may depend upon hair colour.

The number of surgical site sessions can be affected by the texture, thickness and amount of hair. An initial number of sessions will be approved but dependent upon the outcome of the initial sessions, further funding can be sought if necessary. Surgical site hair removal can be either by electrolysis or laser treatment and again choice of option may depend upon hair colour.
